Mrs. Roosevelt Scores Southern Exploitation

NEW YORK—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt took a slap at the South's exploitation of the Negro in her syndicated column, "My Day."

In the New York World-Telegram of August 17 the First Lady said:

"The South has so many potential riches, but it always seems to me that many of its advantages go for nothing because of habits and customs which have grown up and been injurious to the land and people. The people who have been forced to the lowest standard of living and have a minimum of education and the lowest cash income are the Negroes, and I think it is a very real fact that the South itself, in some mysterious way, this is an advantage. During the last few years some question has arisen in the minds of many Southern people as to whether a backward group is ever an advantage."

Decorating A World's War Hero

Husband Held In Wife's Death

FAIR HAVEN—The 35-year-old husband of Mrs. Lena Tibbs, slain Saturday night a week ago as she sat at her dining room table, was held without bail Friday night by Recorder Harry B. Kurtis as a material witness to the murder.

All week long Robert Tibbs was grilled by police, but had apparently supplied an alibi covering the time of the crime. His jailing came as a surprise, but authorities did not say his arrest had solved the mystery murder.

Mrs. Tibbs was slain by a charge from a shotgun fired through her window while she talked to a neighbor, Miss Violet Carson. Police were not satisfied last week at the answers Miss Carson gave to questions.

Here Friday Eve.

Burnett Grants Race Club Liquor License Refused By Township

Declaring that "Negroes, despite the law, are frequently refused service either outright or by more subtle methods", State Beverage Commissioner Burnett on last Friday ordered a liquor consumption license be granted to the Belle Mead Country Club, Belle Meade, after the Hillsborough Township Committee had denied the club of colored members a license.

The township officials, in denying application to Bruce Williams, who applied for the license in the name of 268 members of the club, contended that sufficient liquor places existed in the general neighborhood.

Williams, however, by his attorney, Nelson H. Nichols, Jr., appealed the case from the Township Committee to State Com-

Long Branch Woman Seeks Writ To End Jim-Crow Beaches

Perksie Pondering Long Branch Issue

LONG BRANCH—A step to test the validity of the law passed this Spring by the Long Branch Commission for the purpose of regulating the beaches but which colored citizens here claim has resulted in race discrimination was taken Monday when Attorney Walter J. Upperman of Asbury Park sought a writ of certiorari from Supreme Court Justice Perski at Atlantic City.

The action was started by Mrs. Allie Bullock of Hendrickson avenue, who charged that the ordinance, as amended, is "discriminatory and illusory," and that City Clerk Wooding used discrimination in issuing tags to colored bathers. Other lawyers in the fight are Roger M. Yancey of Newark and Robert S. Hartgrove of Jersey City.

Action climaxed a long-standing threat by colored residents here to take their bathing problem to court unless the city board granted them the privilege of using any of the city's four public beaches. The case is of State-wide interest, even though the beach season is drawing to an end. All summer Long Branch has suffered from the fact that other formerly privately operated beach at North Long Branch.

Montclair To Have Women's Wear Shop

What was Maple Street Shop, located at 11 Hartley street, Montclair, opposite the St. Paul's Baptist Church is no more. Instead, the place has been renovated and will be a modern women's wear shop.

While the place will not open with all wearing apparel for women, it will carry a large assortment of dresses and hosiery, which will represent the newest in fashion as well as value. The aim of the management is to first become acquainted with the wants of the women of the community before stocking heavily in advance. However, the close proximity with the New York department will enable the shop to give adequate service in supplying the demands of the clientele. This place will also be the headquarters for the famous Overton High Brown toilet preparations.

Mr. Hugh Morris, prominent Montclair businessman is the proprietor, and Mr. Richard H. Jefferson, who spent a number of years in the retail dress business in New York City, will be associated with him.

Democratic Candidate At Home

Dr. James E. Lee Well-Known Political And Civic Worker

As a candidate on the Assembly slate of the Essex County Democratic party, Dr. James E. Lee of 134 Monmouth street hopes to be the second Negro in the history of his party to serve as a member of the State Legislature. Ex-Assemblyman Guy R. Moorehead, who served in 1936, holds the distinction of being the first Negro to occupy a seat in the House.

This year's Assembly choice of the Democratic party has been a practicing dentist in Newark's Third Ward for the past eighteen years, where, in politics or race programs Dr. Lee has been an active figure. It was on August 9, 1930, that the dentist-politician opened his office at 140 Broome street, after spending 13 months in the U. S. Medical Corps. Later he moved to 149 West Kinney street, and from there to his present location at 134 Monmouth street.

South Carolina (1909), Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C. (1915) and Howard Dental School (1918). He was a star athlete at Shaw, being a four-letter man, excelling in track, basketball and football.

Dr. Lee was placed on the ticket after the various Negro factions of the Democrats had gathered in a "harmony" meeting at the suggestion of the party's County Chairman, James J. McMahon. He will be opposed in the primary election September 20.

Burnett Hits Unfair Policy

Commissioner Burnett and claimed that the denial was because of color.

In granting the license to Williams, Commissioner Burnett handed down an able and enlightening opinion, which reads in part as follows:

"Hillsborough is a large-sized rural township, occupying some thirty square miles. The club premises are located in a sparsely settled farming section known as Belle Mead. The club house is a twenty-room mansion set on grounds that cover some four or five acres. The club has tennis courts and similar sports facilities for the use of its members (which now total 268), serves meals to these members, and apparently in every way is the usual high-class 'country club' except that its members are colored instead of white. Appellant, when he secures a planetary retail license, plans to cater to these members. The club itself originally intended to apply for a club license to serve this purpose, but was advised by respondent that no such licenses are issued in the Township.

"The nearest liquor place to the club is located one-half or three-quarters of a mile to the south; the next nearest is two or two and one-half miles to the north. Neither these nor any of the other liquor places in the Township cater to the colored folks.

"It is all very well to talk of the theoretical protection given to Negroes under the Civil Rights Act, which provides (R. S. 10:1, § 5) that no tavern keeper shall refuse to sell drinks to patrons merely because of color. However, it is a commonplace fact that Negroes, despite this law, are frequently refused service either outright or by more subtle methods. Members of the Belle Mead Country Club have already experienced difficulty. Two of them were informed at the Belle Mead Inn, the nearest liquor place to the club, that a glass of beer would cost them 50c and a glass of whiskey 50c.

"Practical difficulties like these which confront the colored race, must be fearlessly faced and given practical and fair solutions."

counsel on behalf of Winge. The Essex County Penitentiary at Caldwell is the same prison where Roscoe Bruce, Jr., a former manager of the Harrison Apartments, is serving a sentence for defalcations, etc., which occurred during his service with the management of that apartment house. Winge was at that time working in a clerical capacity. What it is probable that they will now come in contact with each other at the Caldwell Penitentiary, that contact will not be for any considerable length of time as Bruce's term will expire long before Winge's term does.

Winge's spectacular auto fight from his position and from Newark at the time of his discovery of his defalcations, and his equally spectacular surrender, stunned his many Newark acquaintances. Formerly a student at Rutgers College at New Brunswick and at Yale College at New Haven, Winge had a large acquaintance with college folks. He also had built up a large acquaintance with church folk through his activity among the churches.

However, after becoming assistant manager of the apartment house, Winge became even better known as a socialite. He was frequently seen among the Rialto, enjoying the swing music of the Night Clubs. His entrance was usually a sign of cordial welcome whenever he came to the gay surroundings. The expression "swing gates, swing," was usually made when Winge entered these places of mirth and hilarity. His get together enmeshed in the clutches of the law has caused general expressions of regret among Newark's Rialto. Now that his sentence has been reduced, expressions of approval have met the leniency of the Court.

Labor Day For Negro Workers

The advent of another Labor Day should not only be an occasion for celebration by the workers of this nation, but should focus greater attention on the plight of the millions of Americans who cannot "earn bread by the sweat of their brow." Despite the many governmental remedies that have been offered to revive employment since the economic upheaval of 1929, there is no definite indication that the unemployed workers will soon be absorbed by private industry. What, then, is the hope for the unemployed, particularly Negroes who have never enjoyed any appreciable employment opportunities?

Like other workers, the Negro must become an ORGANIZED group in his search for employment opportunities. Once the recipient of jobs which no other group desired, colored workers are now being forced to compete against other workers for ALL jobs, common or skilled. This is an age of efficiency and those who are to find placement in future occupations must be TRAINED to perform their work. This is the challenge that must be met by all unemployed workers, and if the Negro is to regain a place in private industry he too must become a skilled artisan. This is the ONLY factor that transcends color.

Labor Day, 1938, should mark the beginning of an organized effort by Negro workers to force their way into all fields of employment, by a demand for recognition on the basis of efficiency and not color. The so-called "Negro Jobs" belong to another era, and now colored workers must survive as a group competing against other workers, or perish as mendicants.

The Political Policy
Of The Herald News

With the approach of the Fall Elections, THE HERALD NEWS feels that it should, once and for all, state its policy with respect to politics and political parties and political candidates.

As long as THE HERALD NEWS is owned as it now is, the political policy will be, as far as is humanly possible, to keep this newspaper free from partisan politics.

The advertising columns will be open to the political parties at political advertising rates.

The editorial columns shall not be used to advance the principles or policies of political parties, or candidates.

Quite naturally, and because of the inequality now shown colored persons by political parties, this newspaper shall, whenever proper occasions arise, urge the election of properly qualified and representative colored citizens to public office. But even this will not be done on a partisan basis. Our desire is to build up here in New Jersey a newspaper of which all the people will be proud. A newspaper where the Negro may be read in the homes, by parents and children, as well as by busy men and women of industry. "Fair Play" for all is what we are contending for, and therefore we intend to give "all sides" FAIR PLAY in the columns of THE HERALD NEWS.

An Opportunity For Jobs

The month of September offers an unusual opportunity to colored citizens of this state. The rapidly growing Unemployment Compensation Commission offers 19 open competitive examinations; the Federal Government has listed nine positions in the fields of Customs and Immigration administration; Essex County Probation Department is holding an examination for Probation Officer, and an examination for Social Investigator for Orange is being held.

These examinations are opened to all citizens regardless of race, color or creed, and qualified colored persons should offer themselves as applicants. The Federal and State governments have tremendously increased their fold of services to the people, thereby adding thousands of positions for which examinations are being held.

REV. H. G. POPE

REV. H. G. POPE, Pastor

The dedicatory services, which consisted of interior decorating, the outside cornice and windows, installation of furnaces in the church and parsonage and a new pulpit set was begun last Tuesday evening when the Willing Workers' Club, under the leadership of that efficient, unselfish and wide-awake president, Mrs. Enola Jenkins, presented to the church a gorgeous set of chandeliers. Rev. E. S. Hargis, pastor of Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, delivered the sermon in a very excellent manner. He was accompanied by his choir and congregation. Rev. Dr. P. Dixon was master of ceremonies.

The celebration continued until Sunday, when it reached the high peak. Dr. J. C. Jackson, the president of the New England Baptist Missionary Convention, and pastor of the Union Baptist Church of Hartford, Conn., was the guest speaker on three occasions. It goes without saying that Dr. Jackson was at his best, even at the evening service he showed no signs of weakening. Although Dr. Jackson is over 70 years of age, his mind is still keen and his voice strong.

Too much credit cannot be given to the Strangers' Club, under the leadership of the dynamic president, Deacon Peter McQuarters, the Busy Bee Club, under the leadership of the very modest and faithful pastor, Mrs. Alice Whitehead, and the Naomi Circle under the leadership of Mrs. Luecia Campbell, and the Lone Star Club, the smallest club in the church, whose president is Deacon Murphy, and the Missionary Society, under the leadership of Mrs. E. B. Thomas, whose ability is nation-wide; and in fact, the membership of the whole church deserves great credit, but all this has brought about by the guiding hand of that "Prince of Preachers," that scholar, preacher, pastor, Rev. H. G. Pope. Dr. Pope's worth to the community cannot be estimated. Although he is a busy pastor, yet he finds time to lend the weight of his great Services at our church last Sunday were well attended throughout the day. At 11 A. M. a large congregation was present to hear Rev. M. Dixon, of Mt. Truly this great message contained much food for thought and many went away rejoicing they had come to the House of the Lord. At the conclusion of the message a beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. Betty Baskerville.

At 8:30 P. M. Rev. Dixon graced the pulpit again and delivered another inspiring message to an enthusiastic congregation. Many visitors were in our midst. Hopewell Baptist Church

Wickliffe Street
REV. H. T. BORDERS, Pastor

The members of Hopewell Baptist Church honored their pastor, Rev. H. T. Borders, with a surprise party, marking his 52nd birthday, on Friday, Aug. 26. As he entered the church he was greeted with "Happy Birthday."

A program of readings and songs, followed by remarks from officers and presidents of various departments of the church, all of which pointed to his great achievements since coming to the State.

Deacon H. P. Watts presented a purse of $36.50 from the members and gifts from the Junior Choir were presented by Mrs. Jean Wilson, president of the Senior Missionary Circle. Remarks of encouragement were made by Rev. Bowdrey of New Jerusalem Baptist Church.

Rev. J. C. Nelson, who is director of the Jr. Choir of Hopewell and Rev. Renfro, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, a lovely repast was served and enjoyed by all.

Rev. Borders will leave Sunday, Sept. 4, for St. Louis, where he will attend the National Baptist Convention and will spend two weeks afterwards running a revival at the Bethany Baptist Church in Chicago.

REV. O. E. LATTIMORE, Pastor

Owing to the absence of our pastor the services conducted by Rev. Ray of Elizabeth, assisted by Brother James A. Green, pastor.

Music was by the Junior Choir, Margie Barnes, organist. The sermon was well presented from Acts 26:15 and heartily received by the congregation. A good number was out.

The Sunday School is doing good work under the new system and shows that those mid-week teachers' meetings have a tendency to improve the teachers as well as the scholars, which was sorely needed. The old rut was so deep it was a hard job to get out of, but persistence finally overcame the difficulty and now we have a fine school.

Midweek prayer meeting under the leadership of Brother John Avery is very interesting, and from the spiritual manifestations it is something to look for week to week.

We have missed our pastor these few Sundays and hope to be enjoying a much-needed rest, and we also miss Mrs. Lattimore, dispensing her wonderful talent at the organ. We shall be very glad to greet her on her return.

REV. W. F. HAYES, Pastor

At 9:30 A. M. the Sunday School opened and discussed the lesson: "Bible Responsibility for Others." A large group of teachers and pupils were present with Rev. Goddard, assistant superintendent, in charge.

At 11 A. M. Rev. Charles C. Walker, a young man who has been in Bethany from a small boy and who is now a student at the Oyster School of Theology, delivered the morning message. Rev. Walker spoke from the subject of the "Supremacy of Love," found in Corinthians 13: 4-8. His message was concise and to the point and much thought was gained from this beautiful subject, "Love." Bethany certainly feels proud of Rev. Walker after delivering such an inspiring message. There were a number of school mates and friends of Mr. Walker, as well as visitors present.

At 8 P. M. Rev. Walker again delivered a wonderful message from the subject, "Prayer: Life of Jesus," found in Matt. 6:9.

RIALTO REVIEW by Dewey Ackis

"AIN'T NO SIN"

Not being able, at this time, to tag him by his real name, he'll be known in this narrative as Mr. X.

He was pitifully a dumb chuck, but below the surface (literally) his feelings told him that he was a dandy, a gift from the gods to women. And strange as it might seem, the consensus of opinion of his sex which he shyly-shallied and cavorted around with was the same.

He seemed to have cultivated the uncanny habit of leaving a strewn wreckage of broken feminine hearts. This was a lousy thing to do, and he might, it might seem, just like there was not enough and things in this old topsy-turvy world to trouble over.

Despite this, women usually fell for him like a ton of bricks. When he really came on with his gas attack, especially after a couple of strong brandies, which put him in his cups, this cat laid some hard larceny. His handiwork was ample enough to always display plenty of gold.

If you were to ponder with your second thought, your decision might reveal that he was not wholly responsible for his glib escapades, because it was whispered around that he was nerdy about country-born girls. Diet-dishing gossipers tagged him as a fly-by-night spender. Just why the wise little about town were not hipped to his full-frontal remains a deep, foggy secret.

It hasn't been such awhile back when at a party one crisp fall evening, a naughty, but nice, angel resolved to do what dozens of her girl-friends had hopelessly failed to do, and that was: "harness this wild horse from the purlies." She would collar this Don Juan's issues and still remain eighteen carat enough to riff on the rebound.

Back home on a seaboard farm one evening, before he came to the Big, Bad City to make good, which he did in a fairly good measure, his puppy and himself went into a midnite huddle and agreed that when he was ready to Alka-Frot (marry) that he would latch on to a home-town (country-born) gal. His puppy was not, by any means, anybody's dumb bell when it came to using his top piece. Said his mind: "Son, when you go to the City take my big-brother along so you can come up with the come-on in your first show down with those City slickers, and not do serious damage to your backdoor. You can always send for more, but why waste your Dad's greenbacks?"

When their all-nite huddle was over it was on that early bright (A. M.) time, and away to the City he came, so hippled that; he could tell, so he thought, City girls the moon was made of apple sauce and, so help me, they appeared to believe it.

The girl who swore beneath a twinkling starlit heaven to get her man, arranged a swank party at her own expense. On this nite of nights she was exotic and gay as a lark, in her perfect form-fitting evening gown. The four-piece band played only her heart-breaking music selections which toyed with his very soul. She, also, was a good listener to all this, supposedly, wise guy had to say.

"Darling," he said, "I am a victim of your magic charm." And with a twinkle in her fetching eyes she replied: "My Prince, you are the most wonderful man I have met in all the world since I left my country home." These words worked like super-natural powers. The following twelve weeks seemed like just days.

Her country prepared dinners and talk completely won him. He proposed marriage and sent for Ma and Pa to attend the wedding. They arrived and put their rose-colored glasses (eyes) on the bride-to-be and said she was oke-do-oke.

After the honeymoon they settled down to the routine of city life. One evening the husband came home and found his sweet wife in deep study. Her knowledge top-piece was absorbing wisdom back. Yes, Man, in reply to his question as to why she was reading so much, she said: "I am studying up on country life." "But I thought you knew all about country life!" he nervously asked her. "No, my sweets," she replied, "no more than I have seen reading in these books."

She often tells close friends that she is not a Canadian mounted policeman, but she got her man, and he is the sweetest husband and pal in the whole world.

Sportsman Feted On Birthday

On last Monday evening the grill room of the Boston Plaza was converted into a beautiful banquet room with a long table arranged in the center of the room, accommodating 50 guests. The honored guest was that likable business man, William "Sonny" Berry. Much tribute was paid Mrs. Bernice "Bonny" Berry, who was able to keep a secret. A large, delicious birthday cake was placed in the center of the table and provided the proper atmosphere.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Elsie Rhones, Albert Barber, Rajah Thomas, Isella Franklin, Herman Gibson, William Belfield, Mary Frazier, Elbert Jones, William H. Reeves, Miss Jessie Harrison, E. Griffith, Milton Wyckoff, Joe Malone, Charles Davis, John Stokes, Aphas Gambis, Leroy Royals, Mr. E. Osgood, Miss Charlotte Williams and many others.

Jimmy Lunceford In Last Appearance Until April

This Friday evening, Sept. 2, will be a "great day" for the jitterbugs of the metropolitan area. Jimmy Lunceford and his celebrated aggregation of talented musicians will be at Krueger's Auditorium for their final appearance in Newark before beginning a series of nite club engagements that may keep them busy until April of next year.

Manager Harold Oxley is bringing Jimmy Lunceford to Newark for the Rho Sigma Rho Fraternity, after a typical Lunceford triumph at the Savoy Ballroom, where he set an attendance record—3,388 dance addicts paid their way into this famed Harlem spot recently to hear Jimmy.

After an engagement in Boston on Sept. 27 at the Southland Cafe, Jimmy Lunceford and his band will move into the Kit Kat Club, the mecca for the society elites of Park avenue. He is expected to remain there from October 20 to January 9.

The affair Friday evening at Krueger's will mark the first time in nearly a month that advanced dancehoppers have had an opportunity to swing in a setting that can only be provided at Krueger's.

Pitman Headliner For "Country Fair" At Shore Sunday

Several hundred shore visitors are planning to end their summer vacation season Sunday, Sept. 4th, at Fairland Farm, Farmingdale, N. J., to attend the "Country Fair," which will mark the final public event sponsored by Mrs. Dorothy Landis, owner of the 128-acre farmstead, located a few miles from Belmar on State Highway Route 84.

Heading the galaxy of entertainers who will be presented during the day's program, which will begin at 2 P. M. and continue in progress until after midnight, will be Milton Pitman, the incomparable singer of the Jersey night club. Pitman will journey to the shore with his Boston Plaza show.

In addition to entertainment, and games other frolicsome activities will be offered for those who plan to spend the final summer week-end at the shore. Farmingdale is popular for week-end parties because of its closeness to the Belmar beach.

Barytone Presented In Church Recital

Howard V. Aaron, bass barytone, was heard in a recital at the Ebenezer A. M. E. Church, Rahway, Rev. J. W. P. Collier, pastor, on Sunday morning, August 28th. A very appreciative audience listened to Mr. Aaron's renditions, artistically performed. The numbers were revealed with deep feeling and beauty of expression.

Compositions rendered were by the well-known composers, Brahms, Allister, Gounod, Jewitt, Taylor, Malotte, Holl Johnson, Burleigh and Boanier.

Hard-Fought Matches Expected For State Tennis Crown

John Henry Lewis To Hold Crown

The talk about John Henry Lewis giving up his title is just the "bunk," said Gus Greenlee, manager of the titleholder, in Lewis' dressing room in Nutley last week. The reporter showed him the story in a local paper which carried this information. "That story is the creation of some over-zealous sports writer; there is not one semblance of truth in it."

"Why should I want to have the champ surrender his crown to the New York Commission when I am suing them for $300,000? The case will come up in Federal Court, and if I ever get them into court, then the public will see just how boxing is operated in New York," said Greenlee.

Gus also took a blast at Mike Jacobs, who, he claimed, was against Lewis because he refused Mike to handle things his way. "All Jacobs needs to control boxing is John Henry, but he will meet our demands before we move in that direction," Greenlee said.

Greenlee also criticized the New York Commission for vacating his fighter's title when he was already signed up for a match with Al Gainer. "Tiger Box is not the logical contender, but the Commission just used that as a means to accomplish what they wanted. Al Gainer is the Number 1 challenger and we were signed for a title bout with him," he revealed.

Lewis Staggered In Bout Here—Parker Wins

John Henry Lewis was on weary street for a brief moment in his fight with Dominick Ceccarelli at the Nutley Velodrome last Friday night. In a wild exchange during the second round Lewis was hit on the chin with a long, looping right thrown in desperation by the Italian and was knocked clear across the ring. Dominick, sensing his chance for fame and fortune, tried frantically to follow up his advantage, but his best effort only resulted in his wrestling John Henry to the canvas and the champ was able to clinch and ward off his wild-swinging foe the balance of the round.

Lewis came out of his corner with determination to end it all as quickly as possible in the third round. He rushed Ceccarelli into a neutral corner and floored him for a count of nine. After a brief exchange he again found an opening for his cocked right and let go. The blow found its mark and the game Italian was counted out.

Asked about the blow in his dressing room after the fight, the champion replied, "The blow didn't hurt me, he just caught me off balance and that is why I triumphed over the ring."

In the best bout of the evening Morris Parker beat Dalton in six rounds. The former amateur champion outpunched and out-boxed his opponent to score a rather easy win.

Shady Rest Club Scene Of State Tennis Championships

SCOTCH PLAINS—Who will be the men's singles tennis champion of New Jersey for 1938 is the question that has divided the followers of the game into two camps. One group is for the present title holder, Dr. C. O. Hutton of Newark, while the other group favors John Chandler of Fairwood.

The question will be decided over this week-end, when the 15th Annual Championships of the New Jersey Tennis Association will be decided. The play will be on the courts of the Shady Rest Golf Club here, starting Friday and continuing through Monday, Labor Day.

The women's title should be an interesting battle between the current title holder, Martha Davis of Elizabeth and Inez Patterson of Orange. Both of these women reached the round of 16 at the recent Nationals, and it must be said that the Orange woman showed marked improvement over last season.

plenty of opposition for the North Jersey youngsters.

All-Star Game In East Next Month

Gus Greenlee intimated here last week that the East will soon be the scene of an All-Star game at the Yankee Stadium on Sunday, September 18. The West went so strong for the East-West game (29,000 paid admissions) that Gus feels that the East would even top this figure.

The leading players of the Negro National League will be pitted against the best players in the American League. It is not known just what method of selection will be used, but it is quite likely that the fans will be given that power.

Louis Lackland Wins Closed Tennis Crown

The Vikings Tennis Club held their Third Annual Closed Club Tournament on the courts of the Shady Rest Country Club, Westfield, on Saturday and Sunday, August 27 and 28.

Louis Lackland, last year's runner-up for the singles trophy, came through to down Bill Greene, last year's champ, by the scores of 6-2, 6-2. In his advance to the final rounds, Lackland lost only five games, disposing of J. Collins 6-0, 6-0 and Guy Moorehead, the 1936 winner, 7-5, 6-0.

Lackland proved himself a true champion when, after only 20 minutes' rest, he again took the courts with his partner in doubles and proceeded to play the same brilliant game to annex the doubles crown also.

Much credit must be given to Al Tillery, his team-mate, who elected to assume the burden of work, to relieve Lackland of the strain he had come through in the singles. Lackland and Tillery downed the team of J. Collins and W. Nichols by the scores of 6-0, 6-2.

Joe Francis, who coaches the Vikings' team, is well pleased with the showing his charges made and has high hopes of some of his men coming through to the finals of the New Jersey Tennis Association Closed Tournament, which will be held Sept. 2-3-4-5 at Shady Rest Country Club.

Seay Ignored Injury Wells Praised

The thousands who cheered "Dick" Seay Sunday for his great play on Cannady's hit little realized the handicap he was laboring under. "Dick" was severely spiked Saturday at East Orange and had nine stitches in his leg. "I was in misery, but I wanted to play in that ball game. The fact he won was worth the risk," he mused when queried after the game.

Willie Wells, sensational shortstop of the Newark Eagles, stole the show in the recent East-West game with his brilliant fielding and hitting. Always rated a great money player, Wells reached new heights in this classic.

Lloyd Lewis, sports-editor, Chicago Daily News (white), said: "I know 16 clubs in the major league who could use a man like Wells right now."

Bears Eye Eagles

The Newark Bears viewed the game between the Eagles and Black Yanks Sunday at Ruppert Stadium from a box behind the Eagles' dugout. The boys got a real kick out of Mule Suttles' homer with the bases loaded.

When one of the players suggested that they go shortly after this hit, Jimmy Gleason protested. "Wait a minute, I want to see the big boy hit another." After Mule grounded out on his next turn at bat they all left.

Eagles Blast McDuffie, Grays Bombard Craws To Win Games Before Ten Thousand Fans

They came from all over New Jersey and New York, those 10,000 fans who filed into Ruppert Stadium Sunday to witness the first four-team doubleheader ever staged here. They received thrill after thrill as sparkling catches, throws and stops were made by the players and seven home runs, a new record for the stadium, were hit during the afternoon.

The gala day opened with "Jelly" Jackson, fleet-footed shortstop of the Grays, winning the 75-yard dash for players. Then Benjamin won the throwing contest for outfielders, followed by a sensational win by Palm of the Black Yankees in the catchers' throwing contest. The highlight event of the program was a batting match between Mule Suttles and Joe Gibson with Gibson taking off the laurels.

In the first game the Home-Steved Grays eked out an 8-5 win over their ancient rivals, the Pittsburgh Crawfords. This game was a battle of home runs with five being hit to account for the bulk of the runs. Six of the Grays' eight runs were scored by this means. Gibson hit one in first with "Jim" Williams on base; Brown hit one in the fifth and again one in the eighth, and Parker hit one in the sixth with a man on base.

The big blow for the Crawfords was hit by Harry Williams, formerly of the Newark Eagles, with two mates on base to give his team a 3-2 lead in the fourth inning. The Craws were unable to hold their advantage as the big bats of the Grays continued to pummel the offering of T. Smith, who was on the mound for the Greenlee team.

Terris McDuffie came back to face his teammates in a noisy encounter and received a noisier round of boos as he walked to the mound. The boos turned into cheer as he moved the Eagles' heavy artillery down for the first two innings without a hit. But the fireworks started in the third, when "Jim" Hill led off with a single. With two out the Eagles finally filled the bases and Mule Suttles stepped to the plate.

The crowd was in hysterics and McDuffie was in a tough spot. Mule Suttles has always been the most dangerous hitter in baseball in the clutches in every big game he has played in. The centric one pitched carefully to him and reached a count of 2-2. The next pitch was an outside curve ball which Mule promptly deposited into the right-field bleachers for a home run to clean the sacks. That was the ball game and McDuffie was a rather pathetic figure as he left the game the next inning.

In this game the Eagles turned in the best performance of the season. Hill pitched fine ball though he was wild at times. "Dick" Seay turned in the fielding gem of the day when he made a diving pickup of Cannady's hard grounder, rolled over and while on the ground tossed to Wells for a force out at second base. Willie Wells also brought the fans to their feet cheering when he leaped high in the air to bring down Barker's bid for a hit with a one-hand catch.

Both games were bitterly contested and seemed to be the proper appetizer for more big games in Newark.
